PANEL INVASION

In Association with IEEE Women In Engineering Student Branch

Organized by Electrical & Electronics Department

Date: 07-03-21

Panel Invasion is basically a panel discussion conducted Online where participants should have a discussion on the given topic. The event was started by the faculty co-ordinator Dr. B Jyothi with her welcoming address and the event rules were told by the student co-ordinator Mrs.KSravaniPriya.

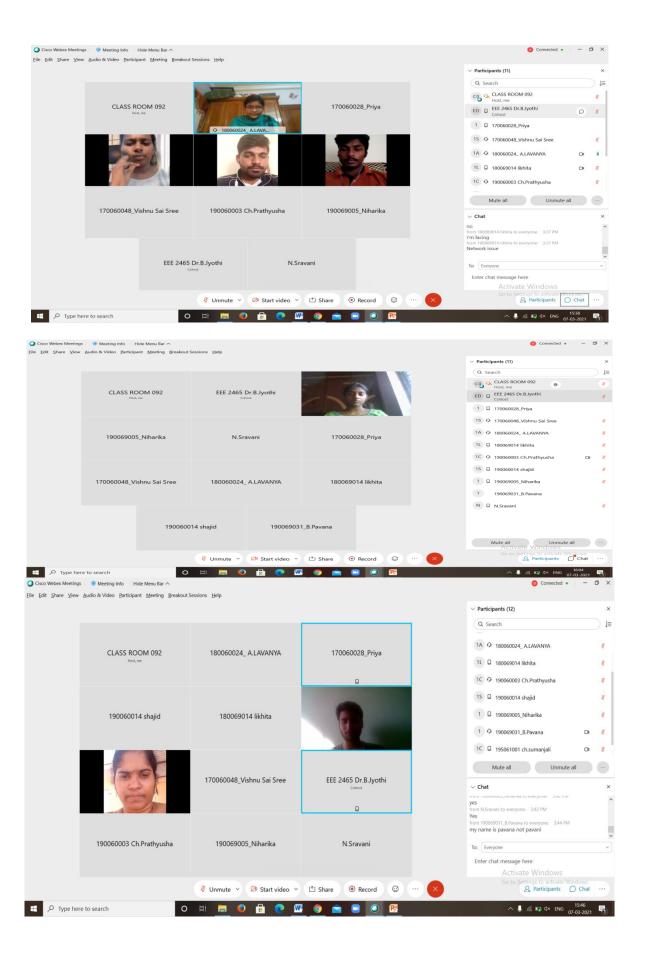

All the participants were divided into 3 different Panels. Each panel has 8 participants.

Each panel was given two topics to discuss for 20 minutes.

Given Topics are

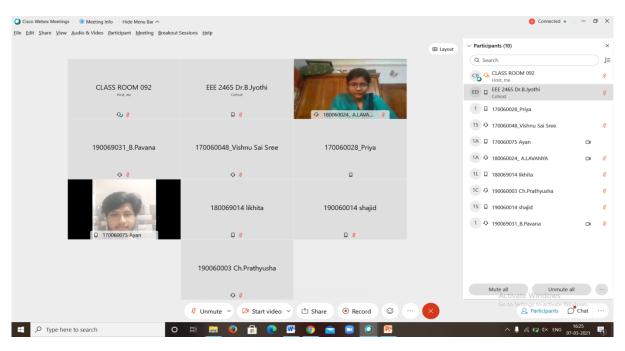

- Men are better in sciences while women are better in the humanities
- Is it necessary to include more women in the present Governance
- Does Feminism empower both men and Women?
- Is women's empowerment a myth in developing countries?
- Is Protecting and caring for children- A women duty
- Should women be a part of Corporate jobs or National Politics support any one

The Screenshots of participants are attached below:

After the panel discussions, participants were given chance to have a good discussion /to express their opinions by choosing their own topic or we had provided topic if they needed.

In the screenshot, the participants were discussing about the – "Why jobs are labelled as These jobs are for Men and These jobs are for Women"

The prominent speakers of the event are

- ❖ Mr. S E S Mani Suryaon "Men are better in sciences while women are better in the humanities"
 - Apart from others, not only supporting the statements he has supported his points with scientifically proven facts.
 - He also stated "It could be a proven fact, but researches like these can increase disbeliefs in people that women are meant for Humanities not for Science".
 And many essential points were discussed by him.
- ❖ Ms. LavanyaAinala on "Why jobs are labelled as These jobs are for Men and These jobs are for Women"
 - She had listed out many reasons of why jobs are segregated basing on Gender
 - Out of which, the point she raised about judging one's physical and mental ability of a gender is leading for job segregation and supressing oppurtunities of others. This then lead to such a quiet healthy discussion between the participants.
- ❖ Mr. ShajidPanyam on "Is it necessary to include more women in the present Governance"
 - Apart from others, he had taken such a good points. Out of the which he stated, "A Good Governance need people who are capable, the number of men or omen shouldn't be a part. But The opportunity to be a part of governance should be provided equally for all".

- He also discussed about the role of women in politics or power and discussed about women empowerment
- ❖ Ms.ChPrathyusha on "Does Feminism empower both men and Women?"
 - She had discussed about what actually Feminism means, she stated "Many people think feminism is to fight for women rights, justice more than men. But Feminism is all about maintaining equality among all and respecting other genders"
 - She also discussed about few incidents like where men were been a part of supporting women and importance of feminism empowering men and women to break those stereotypes, societal pressure and judgements people face about their gender.

Outcomes:

- 1. Men are better in sciences while women are better in the humanities:
 - Increased awareness of the societal stereotypes and biases influencing perceptions of gender and academic abilities.
 - Recognition of the importance of encouraging individuals to pursue their interests and talents regardless of gender norms.
- 2. Is it necessary to include more women in present Governance:
 - Recognition of the benefits of gender diversity in governance, including different perspectives, improved decision-making, and enhanced legitimacy.
 - Discussion of barriers preventing women's participation in governance and strategies to overcome them, such as quotas, mentorship programs, and leadership training.
 - Commitment to promoting gender equality in political representation and decision-making positions.
- 3. Does Feminism empower both men and Women?:
 - Exploration of the principles of feminism and their potential to challenge traditional gender roles and promote equality for all genders.
 - Recognition of how feminism can benefit men by challenging harmful stereotypes, promoting healthier relationships, and advocating for genderneutral policies.
 - Discussion of intersectionality within feminism and the importance of addressing the unique challenges faced by individuals from marginalized communities.
- 4. Is women's empowerment a myth in developing countries?:

- Examination of the progress and challenges of women's empowerment efforts in developing countries, including economic, social, and political factors.
- Recognition of the diversity of experiences among women in different regions and contexts.
- Discussion of strategies to promote women's empowerment in developing countries, such as education, economic opportunities, healthcare access, and legal reforms.
