Professional society activity (Leadership Qualities)

Date: 05.01.2022

Introduction

Department of EEE conducted a webinar on Leadership Qualities beyond Technological Advancements in association with professional society.

Resource Person : Aishwarya Bandla, BioEngineer | Translational Scientist | IEEE Senior Member | National University, Singapore

Leadership is one of those characteristics of a successful man or woman that is never inherited but learned and imbibed into. The term leadership its self can't be defined and it depends on person to person's perception of life. Does leadership mean you lead someone by working with them? Does leadership mean you make someone work for you? Does a person become a leader only if he or she has followers?

It is difficult to give one definition to leadership, but it can safely be said that leadership is important to run this world. Be it a country, a company, a family or even a small classroom, leaders around the world, big or small, have played a pivotal role in our lives.

What it takes to be Future-Ready?

- Reputation
- Autonomy
- Connection
- Mindfulness
- Visuals
- Curiosity
- Resourcefulness
- Focus
- Grit
- Voice
- Foresight
- Creativity

Qualities a student must inculcate:

Leadership is defined by how well you lead a team into the goals and objectives set by you. Leadership is also defined by the clarity and quality of goals that you set for your followers. It is not easy being a leader. A leader is simply not someone who will please everyone on his way. A leader is someone who has the courage and intent of mind to take tough decisions even if it brings harm to his followers but is in the direction of fulfilling the goals.

The screenshot shows a Google Meet interface. The main window displays a presentation slide titled "THE 'T-SHAPED' STUDENT". The slide features a cartoon character with arms and legs spread wide, forming a 'T' shape. The vertical bar of the 'T' is labeled "THE DEPTH OF LEARNING" and "DEEP END". The horizontal bar is labeled "CROSS DOMAIN SKILLS & ATTITUDES". A yellow box on the left contains the text "THE 'T-SHAPED' STUDENT". In the bottom left corner of the slide, there is a logo for "THINK" and in the bottom right corner, it says "THOUGHT: EPIC 2015 BARCELONA". The Meet interface includes a "REC" button, a "Aishwarya Bandla is presenting" notification, a grid of participant video thumbnails (including "MULPURI DIVYA", "Aishwarya Bandla", "IEEE Student Bran...", "CHANDRA SHEKAR U...", "Ravikanti Karthik", "Sai Aashrit Surapaneni", "25 others", and "You"), and a bottom toolbar with icons for mute, video, chat, hand raise, share, and end call. The time "4:16 PM" and the meeting ID "xrc-udqx-kxj" are visible in the bottom left corner.

Integrity: In an era where there is an increasingly cut-throat competition to be “successful”, it has become a rare phenomenon to find integrity among people. And if a leader himself lacks integrity, then it would be wrong to expect that trait from his followers. And this trend leads to a very dangerous and a kind of dystopian future.

Confidence: Take for example Narendra Modi or Steve Jobs or Indira Gandhi. When you see them on television or hear their speeches elsewhere, you will always see them oozing with self-confidence. This is an important trait that every leader should have. If a leader himself is not confident about himself or his decision, then how can he expect his or her followers to have confidence in him.

Inspirational: Source of inspiration from a leader can come from various domains and corners of his or her life, be it their persona, background or competency. Nelson Mandela inspires his followers because of all the sacrifices that he himself made in his life. Barack Obama inspires his followers by his ability to speak and his humble beginnings. Indira Gandhi inspired her followers because of her courage and ability to take bold and strong decisions. Mahatma Gandhi inspires his followers by his ideologies, beliefs and principals. There should a USP (Unique Selling Point) in a leader for his or her followers to get inspired and motivated.

Clarity of Mind: A leader needs to have a clear-cut clarity of mind. The decision he or she takes is based on their intentions, goals and objectives. There can be many hurdles that they might face during the journey but nevertheless they should not lose clarity and focus on the goal that they are trying to achieve. A clear cut clarity will give a sense of confidence among the followers and make them feel that their leader knows what he or she is doing.

Conclusion:

I would like to conclude by saying that it is not an easy job to be a leader. A statesman or a true leader is someone who does everything in their capacity to achieve what they are supposed to achieve. They won't and should not lose focus on their journey.
