

Dr. J K R Sastry, Advisor, Quality

Dr Sastry is a double doctorate in the disciplines of management, computer science and engineering and also holds 3 Post graduate degrees in Electronics and communication engineering, Management and Applied Statistics. He also has qualified and achieved 6 diplomas from premier institutions which include IIM, ASCI, Leads University-UK, IHC – Holland, CMC and Andhra University.

He has served IT industry for 30 Years spanning across 17 different countries including USA, Europe, and Gulf. He has the reputation of delivering high quality IT projects quite in time and within the budget. He has directed more than 76 IT projects worth $750 Million.

He has been serving the education industry for the last 14 Years as a full time professor, majority of which he spent with K L College of Engineering and K L University. During this period he mastered education system and most of the National and International Accreditation, certification and ranking systems. He has been adjudged as the best Teacher many a time.

Dr. Sastry Guided eight Doctorates and another eight are in the pipeline. He has published 150 articles in internationally reputed journals out of which 50 are Scopus indexed and another 20 papers which are to be Scopus indexed are in the process of publishing. Three of his papers have been adjudged as best papers.

He has served K L University as Professor in 4 different disciplines, Dean (R&D), and Dean (P&D) and presently serving as Professor of Electronics and Computer Engineering.

Dr Sastry is presently directing two of the major projects of National Importance related to Traffic Management in smart cities and behavioural management of the students.