

Academic Staff College

Academic Staff College, KLEF, has conducted a week long training program on "Workplace Attitude" for all the faculty members of KLEF, department wise, as per the schedule given below.

Resource Persons were:

1. Dr.N. Siva Kumar, Head and Associate Professor, Soft Skills

2. Dr. M. Madhu Sudhana Rao, Head and Associate Professor, Communication Skills

Timings:
03:30 PM to 5:00 PM

Faculty members from CSE, AI, DS, CS, IT, ECE, EEE, ECS, ME, CE, CSS, MHS and FED actively participated in this training.

Sl.No.	Date	Department	Venue
1.	20.09.2021	CSE	R&D Theatre
2.	21.09.2021	AI & DS, CS&IT & ECE	R&D Theatre
3.	22.09.2021	EEE, ECS, ME, CE	R&D Theatre
4.	23.09.2021	All MHS & FED	R&D Theatre

The resource persons stressed on reducing the circle of concern and increasing the circle of influence by each individual. In the circle of concern our control is less while the in the circle of influence, our control is higher. An individual's response needs to be processed through filters like self awareness, imagination, conscience and independent will. An individual's response should always be proactive response and it should not be a reactive response. A proactive response is often value-based, choice driven, strategic and consistent while reactive response is emotion based, feeling driven, situational and always inconsistent. Attitude can be improved and developed through conditioning. Attitude though it can be changed, it is often determined by genetic determinism, psychic determinism and environmental determinism. Faculty members were informed to overcome the following negative workplace attitudes:

- A) Wait to be told
- B) Wait for someone to solve
- C) Not reliable
- D) Mostly beating around the bush
- E) Are not open to feedback

- F) Back-bite and are not open
- G) Are very distressing to work with
- H) Not noticed despite good performance
- I) Scorns at good work done by others
- J) Only looks at the negative traits in a job
- K) Is not a good listener
- L) Does not like contradicting ideas

The following positive work place attitudes are to be developed by employees

- A) Take initiative
- B) Deal with problems
- C) Be reliable
- D) Crisp and concise communication
- E) Take feedback constructively
- F) Are go-getters
- G) Are fun to be around
- H) Recognized by managers
- I) Appreciate staff where due
- J) Identify learning perspective in any job
- K) Listen with an open mind
- L) Open to new ideas
