A report on "Awareness on Cashless Transactions" on 31.01.2020 at Pedapalem Village

CEA activity of CSE department was conducted in Peddapalem Village, Guntur District. Name of the event is "Awareness Programme on Cashless Transactions". The main objective of this programme is to impart the concept of Cashless Transactions to villagers. As a part of this objective we conducted orientation on digital transactions to villagers. The growing shift towards digital payments is strongly debated among governments, central banks and financial experts. Indeed, the proliferation of new electronic and mobile instruments has opened the door to a possible revolution of the payments landscape. Yet, various factors must be considered as a worldwide shift to cashless could prove more complex than believed.

To justify a withdrawal of paper money, governments argue that a fully digitalized system would eradicate tax evasion and money laundering, reduce transaction costs and enable financial authorities to stimulate economic growth. A cashless system would enable governments to track and record every transaction, leaving no loopholes for fraudsters to exploit. Moreover, central banks would be able to impose any desired monetary policy – including negative rates – as consumers would have no way to retrieve their cash from the banking system.

A demise of paper money would enable governments to exercise a full control over the banking system, including tracking and recording all transactions. If this might be useful in the fight against criminality, it will also impinge on consumer rights to privacy. Furthermore, no one would be immune in case of a system failure, and a stolen or broken Smartphone would immediately leave the victim without a payment tool. Last but not least, the millions of unbanked would be left behind without any resource. According to specialists, a shift to cashless might even create a second-class citizenry and thus deepen the gap between rich and poor. Topics like Debit credit cards. Net Banking. PIN numbers and OTP. How to do online transactions using Net Banking. Use of Buddy App. Creating Online bank account etc., were taught.
