9. SIXTH PAGE

The sixth page may include the ‘Acknowledgement’

10. SEVENTH PAGE

The seventh page may contain an abstract of the Dissertation / Thesis. It is not an introduction and should summarize the main highlights of your thesis, including the results. The abstract should not exceed 4 pages typed with double line spacing. The candidate may emphasize here his/her contributions. The reader/reviewer should be able to get the gist of the work in the abstract itself, without having to go into the main body of the text. In short, the abstract should stand alone and self-explanatory of the entire work.

11. EIGHTH to TENTH PAGES

In these pages the candidate must provide a table of contents, List of Tables, List of Figures and List of Abbreviations and photographs (if any).

NOTE: All the above pages are to be numbered in Roman numerals of lower case and the rest of the thesis should have English numerical numbers.

12. ARRANGEMENT OF MAIN BODY

The following is suggested format for arranging the Thesis work into various chapters. However, this arrangement can be changed to suit the particular Research work.

1. Introduction
2. Literature Survey
3. Theoretical Analysis/Framework
4. Methodology/Experimental Investigations
5. Experimental Results/Observations
6. Discussion of Results
7. Summary, Conclusion and Recommendations
(Original Contribution to be Highlighted)
8. Reference / bibliography
9. Appendices (if any)

13. THE ARRANGEMENT OF PARAGRAPH IN A CHAPTER

Each topic Title in a chapter should be properly numbered for example: 2.1, 2.2. etc., (Bold and Upper case) where, the first digit represents the Chapter number, and second digit, the topic Title number.

Sub-topic titles, if any, may be indicated as 1.1.1, 1.1.2, etc. (Bold and title case) i.e. The first digit representing the chapter, the second representing the topic title and the third representing the sub-topic title.

14. PHOTOGRAPHS AND TABLES

The photographs and tables occurring in a chapter may be serially numbered as Fig: 1.1, 1.2 etc., along with suitable CAPTION where the first digit represents the chapter, the second digit represents figure number.

The photograph may be represented as: plate 1.1, 1.2 etc., the first digit representing chapter and the second representing the photograph number.

15. GRAPHS

The graph should clearly indicate the points which are used for drawing the curve or curves along with the error bars. The axes (X, Y and Z) should have CAPTIONS.

16. REFERENCES

Within the text, references should be cited in numerical order according to their order of appearance. The numbered reference citation within text should be enclosed in square brackets. Example: It was shown by Prusa [1] that the width of the plume decreases under these conditions. In the case of two citations, the numbers should be separated by a comma [1,2]. In the case of more than two references, the numbers should be separated by a dash [5-7].

17. APPENDICES:

Appendices are provided to give supplementary information, which if included in the main text may serve as a distraction and cloud the central theme under discussion. Common examples of information included in appendices are listing of computer programs used to obtain your results, documentation of experimental setups, standards required for your work, tables of raw data, and part drawings.

Appendices should be numbered using English numerals, e.g. Appendix 1, Appendix 2, etc. Each appendix must be given a descriptive title. Most appendices require at least an introductory paragraph explaining what the appendix contains and why.

18. LIST OF PUBLICATIONS:

The list of papers published by research scholar during the period of research shall be given under the heading “List of Publications”. The listing as per the format specified in section 6.12 should be typed 4 spaces below the heading “LIST OF PUBLICATIONS” in single spacing left-justified.
