Browse, search, and explore journals indexed in the Web of Science

The Master Journal List is an invaluable tool to help you to find the right journal for your needs across multiple indices hosted on the Web of Science platform. Spanning all disciplines and regions, Web of Science Core Collection is at the heart of the Web of Science platform. Curated with care by an expert team of in-house editors, Web of Science Core Collection includes only journals that demonstrate high levels of editorial rigor and best practice. As well as the Web of Science Core Collection, you can search across the following specialty collections: Biological Abstracts, BIOSIS Previews, Zoological Record, and Current Contents Connect, as well as the Chemical Information products.

DOAJ (Directory of Open Access Journals)

DOAJ is a community-curated online directory that indexes and provides access to high quality, open access, peer-reviewed journals. DOAJ is independent. All funding is via donations, 22% of which comes from sponsors and 78% from members and publisher members. All DOAJ services are free of charge including being indexed in DOAJ. All data is freely available.

DOAJ operates an education and outreach program across the globe, focussing on improving the quality of applications submitted.

What is a citation?

- A citation is a reference to other published materials

- A citation index is a database that captures all references of items, allowing the user to easily establish which later documents cite which earlier documents

What this means to you:

Using the citation index, you can easily find older and newer RELATED papers.

Journal Metrics

1) Impact Factor: The impact factor (IF) is a measure of the frequency with which the average article in a journal has been cited in a particular year. It is used to measure the importance or rank of a journal by calculating the times it's articles are cited

2) CiteScore : CiteScore measures average citations received per document published in the serial.

CiteScore = Citations count in Particular Year/Documents Published in Last three years

3) SCImago Journal Rank (SJR): SCImago Journal Rank measures weighted citations received by the serial. Citation weighting depends on subject field and prestige (SJR) of the citing serial.

4) Source Normalized Impact per Paper (SNIP): Source Normalized Impact per Paper measures actual citations received relative to citations expected for the serial's subject field.

Management of Research Credentials for Future Needs

- Consider Research as Your Regular Activity and be Live in it

- Dedicate yourself towards Novel Research and don't stop learning

- Explore to current technologies and latest tools in your area of research

- Identify societal problems & relate to your research area for possible solutions

- Do Interdisciplinary and Multidisciplinary Research with National and International Collaborations

- Improve your Research credentials like quality publications, citations, h-index etc

- Be live through research communities like Orcid, Scopus, Web of Science, Mendeley, Research Gate, Publons, Researcher ID, Microsoft Academic etc..

- Try to apply Funding projects or consultancy projects and get some grant to establish your own research setup.

- Become reviewer for top notch journals with your research potential

- Maintain your research record up-to-date in your private or public database and make it visible to research community

Followers will never know how hard the leader tries to create path.
