A report on awareness on C language programme for school children's "Techno School Event" on 27/12/2022 at China Kakani Village

Objective

To develop students' programming skills, we implemented a workshop focused on basic C programming. The workshop aimed to provide students with fundamental knowledge and skills in C programming language. Through practical exercises and hands-on coding, students gained experience in writing and executing C programs. The workshop covered key concepts such as variables, data types, control structures, functions, and arrays. Students actively participated and demonstrated their learning by successfully completing programming tasks. This initiative aimed to equip students with foundational programming skills and foster their interest in computer science and software development.

Description

Technical schools, also known as technical colleges or institutes, provide specialized education and training for specific trades or careers. These programs typically range from less than 2 to 4 years in duration, depending on the chosen program. As Team KLEF-CEA a grand event called "TECH SCHOOL" was conducted to bring together students, educators, and industry professionals. The event aims to showcase the diverse range of technical programs available and promote the importance of technical education. Through interactive sessions, workshops, and demonstrations, we seek to inspire and empower students to pursue technical careers and highlight the value of practical skills in today's workforce. Join us for an informative and engaging event that celebrates technical education.

Proceedings of the event:

Our team CEA visited China Kakani at 2:15PM and split into teams to conduct classes for 8th, 9th, and 10th grade students. During the classes, we focused on teaching basic programming concepts. It was inspiring to see some of the students putting their best efforts into writing and practicing basic programming code. The interactive sessions allowed students to explore their potential in the field of programming. Our aim was to ignite their interest in coding and provide them with foundational skills. The experience was rewarding for both the students and our team as we witnessed their enthusiasm and progress. We are committed to continuing our efforts to foster a passion for programming and technology among young minds.

Outcome

The classes we conducted were highly successful, with enthusiastic participation and positive responses from all attendees. The interactive sessions proved to be fruitful, fostering an engaging learning environment. Several students demonstrated commendable progress, acquiring fundamental skills in C programming. The collaborative atmosphere promoted active learning and knowledge exchange. Students actively embraced the concepts introduced during the sessions. Their receptiveness and eagerness to learn were evident throughout the classes. The practical exercises and hands-on activities greatly enhanced comprehension and skill development. The supportive group dynamic facilitated peer learning and problem-solving. Overall, the classes achieved their objectives and left participants equipped with a solid foundation in C programming.
