A report on “First Aid Awareness” 20/01/2024 at Atmakuru Village

Details of the Event:

Date of the Event	:	20-01-2024
Name of the Event	:	First Aid Awareness
No. of Hours	:	01:30 PM To 04: 30 PM
Venue of the Event	:	Atmakuru Village
No. of Participants	:	Students: 88, Faculty: 02
No. of Beneficiaries	:	1735

Objective:

The primary objective of the First Aid Awareness event conducted by Koneru Lakshmaiah Education Foundation-CEA on the 20th of January 2024, in Atmakuru, was to empower individuals with the knowledge and skills required to provide immediate and effective first aid in various emergencies. The aim was to raise awareness about the importance of prompt and appropriate responses to injuries and accidents, ultimately reducing the severity of injuries and saving lives.

Description:

The event kicked off with an engaging introduction by representatives from Koneru Lakshmaiah Education Foundation-CEA, highlighting the critical role of first aid in emergency situations. The audience, consisting of community members, students, and local leaders, was made aware of the fact that in many cases, immediate first aid can make a significant difference in the outcome of an injury or accident.

Following the introduction, experienced trainers and medical professionals took the stage to provide comprehensive information on various aspects of first aid. They covered topics such as basic life support, wound care, CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation), handling fractures, and responding to common medical emergencies. The content was presented in a clear and accessible manner, ensuring that participants with varying levels of prior knowledge could benefit from the session.

Procedure of the Event:

The event was divided into multiple sessions, each focusing on different aspects of first aid. Participants actively engaged in hands-on activities, including practicing CPR on mannequins, applying bandages, and simulating emergency scenarios. This interactive approach ensured that theoretical knowledge was reinforced with practical skills, making the information more likely to be retained and applied effectively.

Moreover, the event incorporated multimedia presentations, including videos and visual aids, to enhance the understanding of complex concepts. The use of real-life case studies and examples helped participants relate the theoretical knowledge to practical situations they might encounter in their daily lives.

The attendees were encouraged to ask questions and participate in discussions, fostering a collaborative learning environment. The trainers ensured that everyone felt comfortable and supported throughout the event, promoting a sense of community and shared responsibility for emergency response.

Conclusion:

The First Aid Awareness event concluded with a recap of key takeaways and a closing ceremony that included the distribution of participation certificates. The participants expressed their gratitude for the informative and engaging sessions, acknowledging the practical relevance of the skills they acquired.

The event successfully achieved its objective of spreading awareness about the importance of first aid and equipping individuals with the necessary skills to respond effectively in emergencies. The feedback received from participants indicated a significant increase in confidence levels and a willingness to act promptly in situations requiring first aid.

In conclusion, KLEF-CEA initiative in organizing the First Aid Awareness event in Atmakuru proved to be a valuable contribution to community well-being. By empowering individuals with the knowledge and skills needed in critical moments, the foundation has taken a commendable step towards creating a safer and more prepared community.

This event serves as a model for future initiatives, emphasizing the importance of proactive community engagement and education in enhancing overall public health and safety. KLEF-CEA deserves recognition for its commitment to making a positive impact on society through such initiatives.
