During the programme, blankets were distributed to the needy to protect them from the harsh winter conditions and to ensure their comfort and safety. Faculty members and volunteers actively participated in the event, interacting with the beneficiaries and spreading awareness about care and compassion for the underprivileged. The programme highlighted KLEF-CEA's strong commitment to social responsibility, humanitarian values, and community welfare.

Objectives:

-  To provide warmth and protection to footpath dwellers during the winter season.
-  To support and uplift the underprivileged sections of society through humanitarian service.
-  To promote social responsibility and community engagement among faculty and student volunteers of KLEF-CEA.

Outcome:

The Blanket Distribution Programme organised by KLEF – Centre for Extension Activities (CEA) resulted in immediate relief and comfort for footpath dwellers in Kunchanapalli, Tadepalli, and Undavalli areas during the winter season. The beneficiaries expressed gratitude as the blankets helped protect them from cold weather and improved their sense of security and well-being. The programme also strengthened the bond between the institution and the local community, reinforcing the values of empathy, service, and social responsibility among the volunteers and organisers.

Impact of the Society:

The Blanket Distribution Programme had a positive impact on society by addressing the immediate needs of footpath dwellers in Kunchanapalli, Tadepalli, and Undavalli areas during the winter season. By providing warmth and basic comfort to the needy, the programme helped improve their living conditions and safeguarded their health against cold-related issues. The initiative also created awareness among the community about the importance of caring for marginalized sections of society and encouraged collective participation in social welfare activities, thereby strengthening social harmony and compassion.
