Description of the Event:

KLEF–Centre for Extension Activities (CEA), in association with the Department of Artificial Intelligence & Data Science (AI&DS), jointly organised a “Plastic Awareness” door-to-door campaign on 27/01/2026 at Peda Konduru Village. The campaign aimed to educate villagers about the harmful effects of plastic on the environment and human health, and to promote the use of eco-friendly alternatives. Faculty members and student volunteers interacted directly with households, explaining the importance of reducing single-use plastics, proper waste segregation, and recycling practices. Pamphlets and simple demonstrations were used to create awareness in an easy-to-understand manner. The active involvement of the local community made the programme effective and contributed to fostering a sense of environmental responsibility among the villagers.

Objectives:

- ❖ To create awareness among villagers about the harmful effects of plastic usage on the environment and human health.
- ❖ To educate the community on reducing single-use plastics and encouraging eco-friendly alternatives.
- ❖ To promote proper waste segregation, recycling, and responsible disposal of plastic waste.
- ❖ To motivate villagers to adopt sustainable practices for a cleaner and healthier living environment.

Outcome:

The “Plastic Awareness” door-to-door campaign at Peda Konduru Village resulted in increased awareness among villagers about the negative impact of plastic on the environment and public health. Residents showed a positive response by actively engaging with the volunteers and expressing willingness to reduce the use of single-use plastics. The campaign helped villagers understand the importance of waste segregation and safe disposal practices, encouraging them to adopt eco-friendly alternatives in their daily lives.

Overall, the programme fostered a sense of environmental responsibility and motivated the community to contribute towards a cleaner and plastic-free village.

Impact of the Society:

The “Plastic Awareness” door-to-door campaign at Peda Konduru Village had a positive impact on society by promoting responsible environmental behavior among the local community. The campaign encouraged villagers to rethink their dependence on plastic and to adopt sustainable alternatives, leading to improved awareness about cleanliness and environmental protection. It strengthened community participation in maintaining a plastic-free surrounding and inspired collective responsibility towards proper waste management. The initiative also helped in building long-term awareness, contributing to a healthier environment and a more environmentally conscious society.
