Description of the Event:

KLEF–Centre for Extension Activities (CEA) in association with the Department of CSE-2 jointly organised “National Science Day” on 28/02/2026 at Z.P. High School, Nutakki Village. The programme was conducted to commemorate National Science Day and to promote scientific awareness among school students. Faculty members and student volunteers explained the importance of science in daily life and highlighted the contributions of Indian scientists through interactive sessions and simple demonstrations. Various activities such as quizzes, experiments, and discussions were organised to encourage curiosity, critical thinking, and innovation among the students. The event created enthusiasm and inspired young minds to develop interest in science and technology for a better future.

Objectives:

1. To create awareness among students about the importance of science and its applications in daily life.
2. To commemorate National Science Day and highlight the contributions of Indian scientists to society.
3. To encourage scientific temper, curiosity, and innovative thinking among school students.
4. To promote interest in science and technology as potential career paths.
5. To enhance students’ knowledge through interactive sessions, experiments, and quizzes conducted by KLEF–CEA & Department of CSE-2.

Outcome:

The celebration of “National Science Day” at Z.P. High School, Nutakki Village resulted in increased awareness and enthusiasm among students towards science and technology. The interactive demonstrations, quizzes, and discussions enhanced their understanding of scientific concepts and encouraged critical thinking and curiosity. Students actively participated in the activities, which boosted their confidence and interest in exploring innovative ideas. The programme conducted by KLEF–CEA & Department of CSE-2 successfully inspired young minds to develop a scientific temper and consider science-based career opportunities in the future.

Impact of the Society:

The celebration of “National Science Day” at Z.P. High School, Nutakki Village created a positive impact on society by promoting scientific awareness and rational thinking among young students. By encouraging curiosity, innovation, and problem-solving skills, the programme helped nurture responsible and informed citizens who can contribute to community development. The initiative taken by KLEF–Centre for Extension Activities (CEA) & Department of CSE-2 strengthened the connection between higher education institutions and rural schools, fostering knowledge sharing and inspiring future generations to support scientific progress for societal growth.
