A report on door to door campaign “HPV CANCER AWARENESS” 14/03/2026 at China Kakani Village

Details of the Event:

Date of the Event	:	14-03-2026
Name of the Event	:	HPV Cancer Awareness
No. of Hours	:	09:30 AM To 12: 30 PM
Venue of the Event	:	China Kakani Village
No. of Participants	:	Students: 88, Faculty: 02
No. of Beneficiaries	:	1523

Description of the Event:

KLEF–CEA, in association with the Department of CSE-2, jointly organised a door-to-door campaign titled “HPV Cancer Awareness” on 14/02/2026 at China Kakani Village. The campaign aimed to educate the local community about Human Papillomavirus (HPV), its link to cervical cancer, and the importance of early prevention and vaccination. Students and volunteers visited households in the village and interacted with residents, explaining how HPV spreads, the risks associated with it, and the significance of maintaining personal hygiene and regular medical check-ups. Informational pamphlets were distributed and villagers were encouraged to spread awareness among their families and neighbours. The initiative helped promote better understanding of HPV-related health issues and emphasized the importance of preventive healthcare in the community.

Objectives:

1. To create awareness among villagers about Human papillomavirus (HPV) and its connection to cervical and other types of cancers.
2. To educate the community about the importance of HPV vaccination and early preventive measures.
3. To promote awareness about regular health screenings and medical check-ups for early detection of cervical cancer.
4. To inform people about modes of HPV transmission and ways to reduce the risk of infection through proper health practices.
5. To encourage villagers to share knowledge with family members and neighbors, helping to build a healthier and more informed community.

Outcome:

The door-to-door campaign on “HPV Cancer Awareness” created significant awareness among the residents of China Kakani Village about Human papilloma virus and its link to Cervical Cancer. Villagers gained better understanding about the causes, symptoms, and preventive measures related to HPV infection. The interaction between students, volunteers, and community members helped clear many misconceptions regarding HPV and emphasized the importance of vaccination, personal hygiene, and regular health check-ups. As a result, many residents expressed willingness to share the information with their family members and consider preventive healthcare practices, contributing to improved health awareness within the community.

Impact of the Society:

The door-to-door campaign on “HPV Cancer Awareness” had a positive impact on society by improving public understanding of Human papillomavirus and its role in causing Cervical Cancer. The initiative helped reduce misconceptions and encouraged villagers to adopt preventive health practices such as maintaining personal hygiene, considering vaccination, and attending regular medical screenings. By directly interacting with households, the campaign strengthened community awareness about women’s health and the importance of early detection of cancer. Overall, the program contributed to building a more informed and health-conscious society, motivating people to prioritize preventive healthcare and share awareness within the community.
