Guest lecture on Advance functional materials and photonics

Department of CSE has organized a Guest lecture on Advance functional materials and photonics.

Date : 05-01-2024

Time: 4:30PM to 5:30PM

Venue : Jasmine Hall

Resource person:

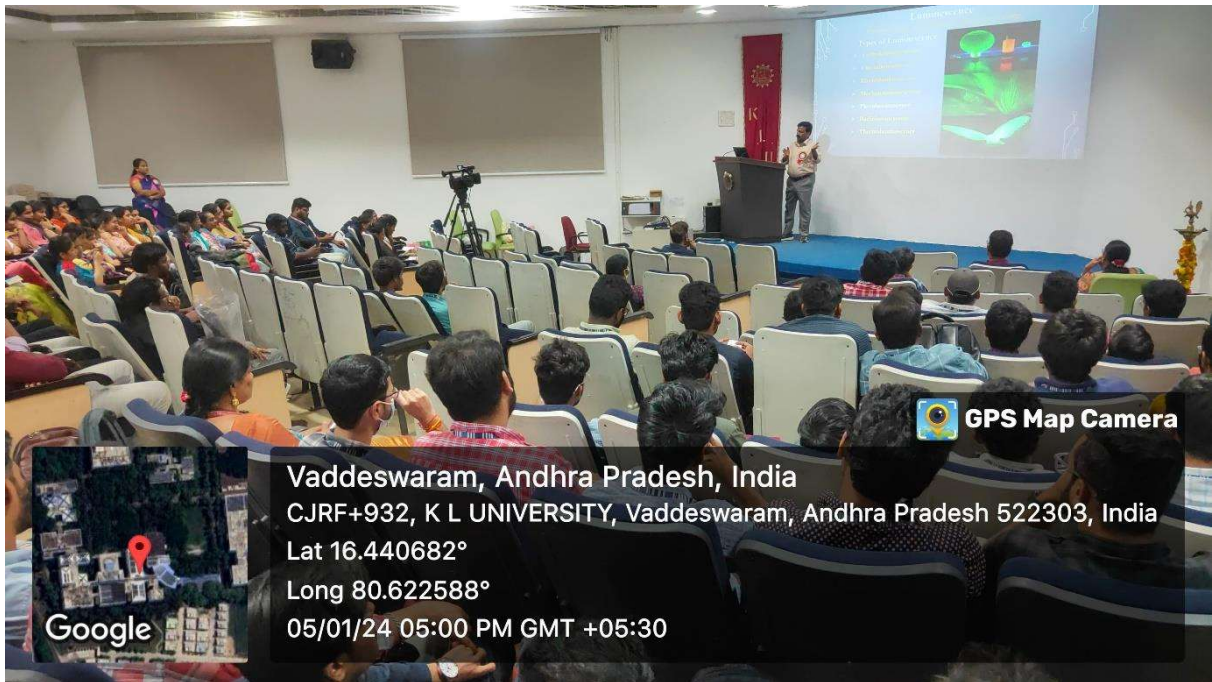

Prof A S Rao, DTU , New Delhi

Topic : Advanced functional materials and photonics

Prof A S Rao gave a Guest lecture on Advanced functional materials and photonics which are interdisciplinary fields that involve the study, design, and development of materials with unique properties and applications in the realm of photonics (the study and application of light). These fields play a crucial role in various technological advancements, including telecommunications, information processing, sensing, imaging, and renewable energy.
