Workshop on “Virtual Reality (VR) Fundamentals”

Dates: 31-01-2020

KLEF, Computer Science and Engineering Department is primarily aimed at encouraging students to learn and pursue their individual talents and abilities. FOCUS, the Student Association of CSE department initiated Virtual Reality (VR) Fundamentals.

Virtual Reality has been one of the latest advancements which has taken the technological industry by storm. Virtual Reality refers to the computer-generated simulation in which a person can interact within an artificial three-dimensional environment using special electronic devices, such as special goggles with a screen or gloves fitted with sensors. In the simulated artificial environment, the user can explore the various artifacts and proceedings as they might in the real world. This has many advantages in the the modern world as we will be able to perform many operations or functions by simply having it Stimulated in a computer generated simulation. We will be teaching students the basics of Virtual Reality and helping them understand how these Simulations are created and how they work.
