Faculty Orientation Report on EBC Website: E-Law Books

Presenter: Shailesh Jain

Audience: Law Faculty

Overview: During the orientation, Shailesh Jain introduced the EBC (Eastern Book Company) website, highlighting its extensive collection of e-law books tailored for legal education and research.

Key Points:

1. Comprehensive Resource: The website hosts a vast array of e-books across various legal disciplines, ensuring faculty can access diverse materials for teaching and research.
2. User-Friendly Navigation: Jain emphasized the intuitive interface, which allows users to search by title, author, or subject matter, facilitating quick access to needed resources.
3. Digital Accessibility: The platform supports remote learning, enabling faculty and students to access legal texts anytime, enhancing flexibility in their academic pursuits.
4. Regular Updates: EBC's commitment to updating its collection ensures users have the latest legal information and publications at their fingertips.

Conclusion: The EBC website stands as a valuable asset for law faculty, enriching their teaching resources and supporting effective legal education. successfully introduced faculty members to the platform's features. Attended by all the faculty members, the session covered navigation through the EBC Reader interface, accessing e-books, and using advanced search tools. The presenter demonstrated how to organize research materials and utilize annotation tools. Participants appreciated the user-friendly interface and the comprehensive legal content available on the platform. Overall, the orientation was well-received and will enhance academic and research efforts.
