

Dr. Radha Krishan Sharma is a distinguished professor in Finance and Accounting with over 33 years of academic and administrative experience. Currently, he serves as a Professor at KL Business School and Associate Dean of Internal Quality Assurance at Koneru Lakshmaiah Education Foundation (KLEF), a prestigious institution in India. Dr. Sharma's career spans a rich tapestry of leadership roles, research, and international experience, including significant tenures in Bahrain, Oman, and India.

With an academic foundation in Commerce (M.Com.), an MBA in Finance, and a Ph.D. in Commerce, along with an executive certification in Fintech from the University of Oxford, Dr. Sharma's expertise bridges traditional finance and emerging financial technologies. He has contributed significantly to academic quality standards, serving as a leader in institutional accreditation efforts for national and international bodies, including NAAC, NBA, AACSB, and ABET. He has led initiatives in curriculum enhancement, assessment automation, and the implementation of Outcome-Based Education (OBE) to elevate student learning outcomes. Dr. Sharma's research interests span finance, accounting, and educational quality, and he has published in esteemed journals and presented at global conferences, including those at the University of Cambridge (UK) and JNU (India). His commitment to community engagement is evident in his efforts to establish outreach programs that align with Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

A recognized leader, Dr. Sharma is an editorial board member of various journals, a life member of professional bodies like the Indian Accounting Association, Indian Society of Technical Education, International Banking, Economics and Finance Association and an awardee for his contributions to the education sector. His career reflects an unwavering commitment to academic excellence, and transformative leadership in higher education.