ABOUT ENROLLED AGENT (EA)

Enrolled Agents (EAs) are tax practitioners with federal licenses, authorized to represent taxpayers before the IRS in matters such as collections, audits, and appeals. With unlimited practice rights granted by the Department of Treasury's Circular 230 regulations, EAs can provide guidance, representation, and tax preparation services for individuals, partnerships, corporations, estates, trusts, and any entities with tax reporting obligations. As the sole federally licensed tax practitioners specializing in taxation, Enrolled Agents hold unique privileges to represent taxpayers before the IRS. The Enrolled Agent Course is highly esteemed in the industry and endorsed by the IRS, and individuals with this qualification typically enjoy an average salary nearly 17% higher than non-qualified preparers.
