Report on Rainwater Harvesting Event at Prathuru

NSS Unit 2 representing department of ECE KL Deemed to be University has Conducted “Rainwater Harvesting” Event on 22nd September 2019 in Prathuru village. Rainwater harvesting is a technique of collection and storage of rainwater into natural reservoirs. And we selected harvesting pits as reservoirs. Students actively took part in making pits. Volunteers divided or among them and divided into teams. A group of members are making pits and at the same time another group planted some trees in the surroundings.

Volunteers took the help of villagers in making pits and interacted with them and explained them about harvesting pits and advantages of rainwater harvesting. Everyone actively took part in the event and made it a grand success.
