Objective:

The objective of the Diabetes Health Camp is to raise awareness about diabetes among villagers and promote its prevention and management. It aims to provide free health check-ups, including blood sugar testing and consultations. The camp educates participants on maintaining a healthy lifestyle through balanced diets and regular exercise. Additionally, it seeks to connect villagers with resources for ongoing diabetes care and support.

Description:

The KLEF College of Pharmacy National Service Scheme (NSS) organized a Diabetes Health Camp on 25th November 2024 at Pedakonduru Village, Duggirala Mandal. The camp focused on educating villagers about diabetes prevention, detection, and management. Free health check-ups, including blood sugar tests and consultations, were provided to promote early diagnosis and awareness. Attendees received guidance on healthy diets, regular exercise, and lifestyle changes to combat diabetes. The initiative aimed to enhance the community's access to health resources and improve overall well-being.

Outcome:

The Diabetes Health Camp successfully raised awareness among villagers about diabetes prevention and management. Many participants underwent free health screenings, leading to the early detection of potential cases. The event empowered the community with essential knowledge and resources for maintaining healthier lifestyles.

Impact on Society:

The Diabetes Health Camp fostered a health-conscious mindset within the community, promoting proactive measures against diabetes. It strengthened trust between the villagers and healthcare providers, enhancing community engagement in health initiatives. The camp's success set a precedent for continued efforts in rural health education and accessibility.
