Event : Medical Camp Villagers
Date : 18-03-2026
Place : Nutakki

Objective:

The objective of the Free Medical Camp for Villagers program is to provide accessible healthcare services and basic medical checkups to rural communities. It aims to create awareness about disease prevention, personal health, and early diagnosis of medical conditions. The program also encourages villagers to seek timely medical advice and adopt healthy lifestyles. Overall, it promotes better healthcare access and improves the well-being of underserved populations.

Description:

As per the directions of the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, Government of India, National Service Scheme (NSS), and in accordance with the guidelines of the Regional Directorate, Hyderabad and Andhra Pradesh State NSS, the NSS Unit-6 of the CS&IT Department, KL University organized a successful Free Medical Camp on Wednesday, 18th March 2026, in Nuthakki village as part of the NSS Special Camp. Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. K.R.S. Prasad, stated that the camp was conducted with the objective of promoting the health and well-being of village residents.

Head of the CS&IT Department, Dr. A. V. Praveen Krishna, explained that villagers were provided with free medical checkups, including blood pressure, diabetes, ECG, and general health examinations. Medical professionals also offered health consultations, necessary medicines, and guidance on preventive healthcare measures. NSS Programme Coordinator, Dr. P. Srikant Reddy, emphasized that the primary goal of the camp was to make quality healthcare services accessible to people in rural areas. He stated that the initiative not only encouraged villagers to pay attention to their health but also created awareness about the importance of early diagnosis and preventive care.

NSS Programme Officer, Dr. N. Praveen, highlighted that the free medical camp proved highly beneficial to the community by spreading the message, "Healthy Village – Developed Society." He noted that the program played an important role in improving health awareness and supporting rural healthcare needs. The program was successfully coordinated by NSS Field Coordinator Mr. P. Suresh. The volunteers were appreciated by University Vice-Chancellor Dr. G. Parthasarathi Varma, Pro Vice-Chancellors Dr. A.V.S. Prasad, Dr. N. Venkataram, and Dr. K. Rajashekhara Rao, along with Dean Advisors Dr. Habibullah Khan, Registrar Dr. K. Subbarao, Principal Dr. V. Rajesh, Advisor Dr. Habibullah Khan, Associate Dean Dr. Shanta Sri, and other dignitaries.

Outcome:

The outcome of the program was positive as villagers received free medical checkups, health advice, and necessary medicines. It increased awareness about preventive healthcare, early diagnosis, and healthy living practices. The initiative helped identify common health issues and encouraged timely medical attention. Overall, the program improved healthcare access and promoted better health awareness in the rural community.

Impact on Society:

The program has a positive impact on society by promoting cleanliness, environmental awareness, and community responsibility. It helps create healthier public spaces while encouraging tree plantation and sustainable practices. The initiative also inspires students and villagers to actively participate in protecting their surroundings. Overall, it contributes to building a cleaner, greener, and more socially responsible society.
