Objective:

The objective of the Cyber Security Awareness Program is to educate individuals about safe online practices and the risks of cyber threats. It aims to build awareness on topics like phishing, password safety, malware, and social engineering attacks. The program promotes the use of secure digital tools, data protection techniques, and responsible internet usage. It empowers students and citizens to identify and respond to cybercrimes effectively. Ultimately, the goal is to create a cyber-aware and digitally secure society.

Description:

As per the guidelines of the Ministry of Youth Affairs & Sports, Government of India, and under the Pradhan Mantri Gramin Digital Saksharta Abhiyan, a Cyber Security Awareness Program was conducted by KL University, informed Dr. K.R.S. Prasad, Dean of Student Welfare. He stated that many people are falling victim to online fraud by clicking on social media links promising high returns on investments. Cybercriminals are luring the public with fake ads and false hopes of profit, ultimately stealing their hard-earned money. He stressed the importance of public awareness to prevent such cybercrimes.

On Saturday, NSS volunteers from KL University, in collaboration with the BA IAS Department, conducted door-to-door awareness campaigns in Vaddeswaram village to educate the public on various forms of cyber fraud. Dr. Sivanagaiah, Head of the BA Department, explained that fraudsters often gain victims' trust by first asking them to deposit small amounts and then trap them into investing larger sums before disappearing. He also warned that individuals lured by part-time job offers on social media are unknowingly sharing their personal and banking information, leading to financial loss.

Dr. Habeebullah Khan, Dean Advisor, cautioned people not to trust advertisements seen on social media, especially those offering huge profits. He advised that before making any significant investment, one should thoroughly verify the company's background. He also suggested immediately exiting any unauthorized WhatsApp or Telegram groups, and warned that clicking on unknown links in fake lottery or prize money messages can lead to bank account hacking and fund theft. Mr. P. Suresh, field-level coordinator, along with the NSS volunteers, was appreciated for their efforts by KL University Vice-Chancellor Dr. G. Parthasaradhi Varma, Pro Vice-Chancellors Dr. A.V.S. Prasad, Dr. N. Venkataram, Dr. K. Rajasekhar Rao, and NSS Program Coordinator Dr. P. Sreekanth Reddy.

Outcome:

The event raised strong awareness among villagers about common cyber frauds and digital scams. Participants learned to identify fake links, suspicious investment offers, and part-time job traps on social media. The campaign empowered them to protect personal and banking information online. As a result, digital vigilance and cyber safety practices improved at the grassroots level.

Impact on Society:

The event strengthened digital literacy and cyber safety awareness in rural communities. It reduced the likelihood of villagers falling victim to online scams and financial frauds. The initiative built public confidence in using digital platforms cautiously. Overall, it contributed to creating a more alert, secure, and digitally responsible society.
