Objective:

The objective of the Blood Donation Camp is to raise awareness about the vital role of voluntary blood donation in saving lives and improving public health. It aims to motivate healthy individuals to come forward and donate blood regularly, ensuring a safe and sufficient blood supply for hospitals and emergencies. The camp seeks to promote a sense of social responsibility and compassion among participants. By fostering community involvement, it encourages collective efforts toward humanitarian service. Ultimately, it strives to build a culture of care, empathy, and support within society.

Description:

As per the directions of the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, a Blood Donation Camp was organized on Wednesday, 13-08-2025, at KL University under the joint auspices of the National Service Scheme (NSS), Youth Red Cross (YRC), and the Women Development Cell. Speaking on the occasion, KL University Advisor & Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. Habibullah Khan, stated that blood donation is a noble act equivalent to saving lives during emergencies such as accidents, surgeries, thalassemia, and cancer. He inaugurated the camp and, addressing the students, emphasized that in critical situations, the non-availability of blood can lead to loss of life and urged the youth to come forward to donate blood.

Associate Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. K. Ruthu Ramya, said that among all services, blood donation is the most precious, as one unit of blood can save up to three lives. She called upon the participants to spread awareness about blood donation and encourage more people to participate. YRC Professor In-charge, Dr. R. Supriya, explained that healthy individuals aged between 18–60 years, weighing over 50 kg, with normal blood pressure and hemoglobin levels, and who have not donated blood in the past three months, can safely donate blood. She added that blood donation stimulates the production of new blood cells, improves blood circulation, and helps maintain good health.

NSS Programme Coordinator, Dr. P. Sreekanth Reddy, remarked that blood donation is a symbol of humanity and that everyone should recognize its importance. NSS Field Coordinator, P. Suresh, coordinated the event. KL University Vice-Chancellor, Dr. G. Parthasarathy Varma, Pro-Vice Chancellors, Dr. A.V.S. Prasad, Dr. N. Venkatram, and Dr. K. Rajasekhara Rao, Registrar, Dr. K. Subba Rao, Principal, Dr. T.K. Ramakrishna Rao, Vice Principal, Dr. M. Suman, SAC Director, P. Sai Vijay, Alumni Assistant Director, Dr. K. Sony, and others congratulated the blood donors.

Outcome:

The Blood Donation Camp at KL University successfully inspired students and staff to participate in a life-saving humanitarian service. Many eligible donors came forward, contributing to a safe and sufficient blood supply for emergencies such as accidents, surgeries, and critical illnesses. The event significantly increased awareness about the health benefits of blood donation and the urgent need for voluntary donors. It also strengthened the spirit of social responsibility, compassion, and community service among participants. Overall, the camp fostered a culture of care and active involvement in public health initiatives within the university.

Impact on Society:

The Blood Donation Camp created a positive impact on society by encouraging more people to donate blood voluntarily. It helped ensure the availability of blood for patients in need during emergencies. The event promoted the values of empathy, solidarity, and humanitarian service. Increased awareness motivated participants to influence their peers and communities toward regular blood donation. In the long run, such initiatives strengthen public health systems and save countless lives.

Blood Donation is a Symbol of Humanity

— Advisor & Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. Habibullah Khan

Tadepalli, August 13 (Andhra Prabha): Blood donation is an act as noble as saving lives during accidents, medical treatments, and for patients suffering from thalassemia, cancer, and other critical conditions, said KL University Advisor & Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. Habibullah Khan, addressing blood donors. He inaugurated the voluntary blood donation camp organized jointly by the YRC, WDC, and NSS units at the university on Wednesday and spoke to the students. He stated that in emergencies, the unavailability of blood could lead to loss of life, and urged the youth to come forward to donate blood. Associate Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. K. Ruthu Ramya, said that among all forms of service, blood donation is the most priceless, as one person's donation can save up to three lives. She stressed the need to raise awareness so that more people are motivated to donate blood. YRC Professor In-charge, Dr. R. Supriya, explained that healthy individuals aged between 18 and 60, weighing over 50 kg, with normal blood pressure and hemoglobin levels, and who have not donated blood in the past three months, are eligible to donate. She added that donating blood helps in the formation of new blood cells, improves blood circulation, and keeps the donor healthy. NSS Programme Coordinator, Dr. P. Sreekanth Reddy, stated that blood donation is a true symbol of humanity and that everyone should recognize its importance. NSS Field Coordinator, P. Suresh, acted as the coordinator for the camp.
