AWARENESS PROGRAM ON SCHOLARSHIPS, JOB OPPORTUNITIES AND CAREER OPPORTUNITIES FOR OBC STUDENTS

Date : 19/10/2022
Time : 3:00 P.M to 5:00 P.M
Venue : R&D Theater

OBJECTIVES

The goals of organizing an awareness campaign for Other Backward Classes (OBC) students regarding scholarships, employment prospects, and career paths are extensive and influential. Initially, the program aims to enhance comprehension among OBC students regarding available scholarships at different educational levels, ensuring equitable access to financial support for pursuing higher education. Secondly, it endeavors to broaden students' awareness of various job sectors, industries, and potential career paths, highlighting emerging opportunities and the essential skills necessary for success. Additionally, the initiative seeks to equip students with the knowledge and resources required to make informed decisions about their educational and professional journeys, fostering confidence, ambition, and inclusivity within the community. Ultimately, the program aims to advance social and economic empowerment by facilitating networking, mentorship, and advocacy for inclusive policies and opportunities that empower OBC students to thrive and excel in their chosen fields.

DESCRIPTION

Organizing an awareness initiative for Other Backward Classes (OBC) students about scholarships, job opportunities, and career prospects entails a range of essential tasks and activities. Dr. K R S Prasad, the Dean of Student Affairs, leads the program alongside other members of the OBC committee. The initiative begins with thorough research to identify relevant scholarships, employment sectors, and career paths specific to the OBC community. Following this, engaging sessions are organized featuring guest speakers, industry professionals, and representatives from educational institutions and government agencies to provide insights into scholarship applications, job market trends, and skill development opportunities. Interactive workshops are conducted to assist students in refining resumes, improving interview skills, and exploring entrepreneurship. Participants receive resource materials such as brochures, handouts, and online resources for further exploration.

OUTCOMES :

The outcomes of organizing an awareness program for Other Backward Classes (OBC) students in a university setting can be multifaceted and impactful. Firstly, such a program can lead to increased awareness and understanding among OBC students about available resources, support services, and opportunities within the university, fostering a sense of belonging and inclusivity. Secondly, it can facilitate networking and interaction with faculty, staff, and peers, enhancing students' engagement and participation in academic and extracurricular activities. Additionally, the program can empower OBC students to explore and pursue various educational and career paths, providing them with the knowledge and confidence to navigate their academic and professional journeys successfully. Moreover, it can contribute to the overall diversity and inclusiveness of the university environment by promoting equitable access to education and resources for OBC students, ultimately leading to their academic and personal growth. Overall, the outcomes of such an awareness program in a university setting aim to promote empowerment, inclusivity, and success among OBC students within the academic community.
