

Institutional Ethics Committee (IEC) Office

The Ethics Committee Office at KLEF (Koneru Lakshmaiah Education Foundation) plays a pivotal role in ensuring that all academic, research, and administrative activities are conducted in accordance with established ethical standards and regulatory guidelines. The office is committed to promoting integrity, transparency, and accountability among faculty, researchers, staff, and students. The committee is responsible for reviewing and approving research proposals involving human participants, animals, or sensitive data, ensuring compliance with national and international ethical norms. It safeguards participant rights by enforcing principles such as informed consent, confidentiality, and data protection. At KLEF, the Ethics Committee Office formulates and implements policies related to research ethics, plagiarism prevention, conflict of interest, and responsible conduct of research. Regular meetings are held to evaluate proposals, monitor ongoing research, and address ethical concerns effectively.
