Ubuntu is an ancient African word meaning ‘humanity to others’. It also means ‘I am what I am because of who we all are’. The Ubuntu operating system brings the spirit of Ubuntu to the world of computers.

The vision for Ubuntu is to part social and part economic: free software, available to everybody on the same terms, and funded through a portfolio of services provided.

Ubuntu is different from the commercial Linux offerings that preceded it because it doesn't divide its efforts between a high-quality commercial version and a free ‘community’ version. The commercial and community teams collaborate to produce a single, high-quality release, which receives ongoing maintenance for a defined period. Both the release and ongoing updates are freely available to all users.

The objectives of the training program

1. To learn the various Linux distributions
2. To learn basic fundamental Linux commands
3. To understand and to overcome the issues involved in using the Linux – open source tools

The training program is given to the participants on the various tools available in Linux program. The participants learned actively and as well cleared all their doubts.

Participants were given certificates at the end of the training session
