Report on A Five-Day Faculty Development Program on “Art of Writing Research Articles and Drafting for Grant of Projects”

Date: From 27-11-2023 (Monday) to 01-12-2023 (Friday)

Time: 9.30AM -4.30PM

Venue: Sunflower Hall

Resource Persons:

- 1) Dr E Balasubramanian, Associate Professor, National Institute of Technical Teacher Training center & Research, Chennai.
- 2) Dr M Anil Kumar, Associate Professor, National Institute of Technical Teacher Training center & Research, Chennai.

The Academic Staff College (ASC) of KLEF has conducted a five-day Faculty Development Program (FDP) titled "Art of Writing Research articles and drafting for grant of projects" from November 27th to December 01st, 2023. The FDP attracted participation from numerous research scholars and academicians representing diverse departments and schools within KL University.

DAY 1 – 27-11-2023

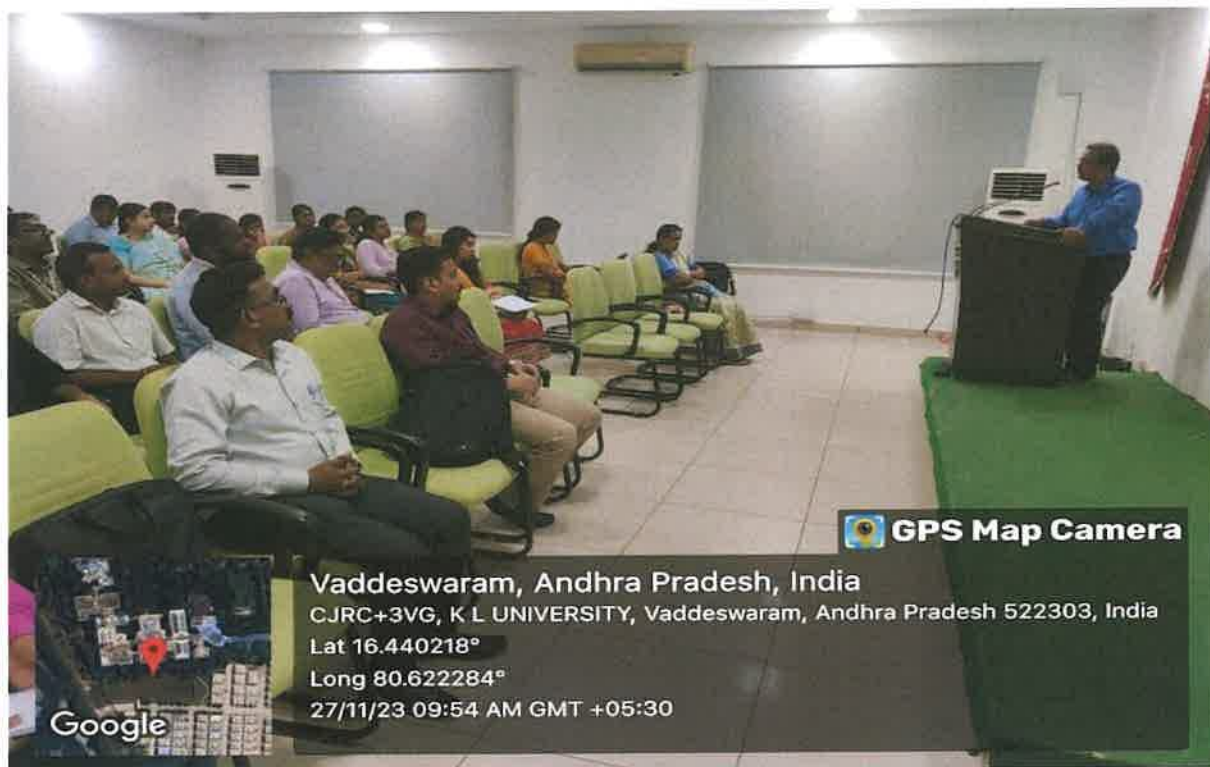

TOPIC: Introduction to Research and Funding

On the first day, Dr E Balasubramanian conducted a session providing an introduction to research article writing. The topics covered included the basics of research article writing, objectives, literature survey, adopting a scientific approach to research, the significance of research articles, the scope of research, various steps involved in conducting research, different phases of research article writing, and research methodology.

Dr M Anil Kumar addressed the efficient use of scientific language in writing and shared information about the Scopus portal. This portal provides accessible information on various journals related to research across different domains. The session highlighted the importance of artificial intelligence (AI) tools in research, enabling researchers to access information on literature reviews, citations, PDF generation, data extraction, keyword location, paraphrasing of literature, and literature reformation, among other aspects.

Participants attended for the inaugural session

DAY 2 – 28-11-2023

TOPIC: How to write good proposal for funding

On the second day, Dr E Balasubramanian conducted a session on crafting a compelling proposal for funding. The session covered essential aspects such as identifying the research problem, conducting a foundational review of literature, formulating a research plan for funding projects, establishing objectives and selecting the study design, determining the sample design, collecting data from the research sample, and processing and analyzing the collected research data for funding proposals. Also provided insights into writing a comprehensive research report for funding, developing a research proposal for funding, and presenting results.

DAY 3 – 29-11-2023

TOPIC: Selection of Research, Drafting Research Proposal writing

On the third day, Dr M Anil Kumar conducted a session focusing on the selection of research topics and manuscript drafting, along with the mechanism for drafting research proposals. The discussion encompassed fundamental aspects of research, including the research problem, literature review, research objectives, design, data collection, analysis, and writing. Additionally, criteria for selecting research papers, such as the motivation of the research applicant, understanding of research, quality of experience, educational and long-term impact on society, and suggestions, were thoroughly discussed.

DAY 4 – 30-11-2023

TOPIC: An overview of funding agencies

On the fourth day, Dr E Balasubramanian delivered a lecture providing an overview of funding agencies available to Indian research scholars, including both national and international travel grants from different entities.

Dr M Anil Kumar provided insights into a diverse range of funding agencies, encompassing non-governmental organizations (NGOs), state government bodies, central government entities, international institutions, local government bodies, and corporate sponsors. He specifically discussed funding agencies such as the Department of Science and Technology (DST), Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR), The Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), Ministry of New and Renewable Energy, Ministry of Education, University Grant Commission and All India Council for Technical Education, along with various cells, departments, bodies, and corporate entities associated with them.

TOPIC: Research project proposal drafting and submission process

On the fifth day, Dr M Anil Kumar conducted a session on the drafting and submission process for both minor and major research project proposals. Using a practical example, he illustrated the formulation of research through basic research, emphasizing key steps such as collecting background information, identifying the research problem, reviewing literature, formulating research questions, objectives, and hypotheses, selecting the study design, determining the sample design, collecting data from the research sample, processing and analyzing the collected research data, and finally, writing the research report.

Assessment and Feedback from the participants:

In the afternoon session, assessment test was conducted for the participants. Feedback was collected from the participants about the programme.
