 Session-1: 09-11-2024 (Saturday) :

Welcome address by Dr. Govardhani, Principal, Academic Staff College (ASC)

The Two day's workshop on A Training Program on "Classroom Teaching Aids (TV & Wacom)" was held to address the growing need for effective and innovative teaching tools in the modern classroom.

The training program aimed to equip faculty members with the practical knowledge and skills to integrate these tools into their teaching, enabling them to improve student engagement, better demonstrate concepts, and facilitate interactive discussions.

The primary aim of the workshop was to enhance educators' ability to incorporate multimedia resources into their teaching practices. By focusing on the use of TV and Wacom technology, the workshop sought to empower teachers with the skills to create engaging, interactive, and visually stimulating lessons that improve student learning experiences.

Resource Person: Dr. M. Shiva Kumar, ET Faculty Manager, KLEF.

Participants were trained on the practical use of television as a visual aid and the Wacom tablet as a versatile tool for creating dynamic digital content, providing an alternative to traditional teaching methods. The workshop also aimed to foster a deeper understanding of how technology can support diverse learning styles and facilitate better classroom communication. Overall, the program was designed to equip educators with the knowledge and tools necessary to create more engaging and effective learning environments in the digital age.

Program Objectives:

The key objectives of the training program were as follows:

- To introduce faculty members to the capabilities and benefits of using TVs and Wacom tablets in the classroom.
- ➤ To provide hands-on experience in setting up and operating these tools for effective lesson delivery.
- To demonstrate how TV and Wacom tablets can improve interactivity, engagement, and retention in students.

To offer troubleshooting tips and best practices for using these technologies seamlessly in the classroom.

Participants listening to the lecture (TV & WACOM)

Participants at the program.

Wacom Tablets (Interactive Whiteboards):

- > Introduction to Wacom tablets, digital pens, and their capabilities in classrooms.
- > The interactive features of Wacom tablets: writing, drawing, annotating, and real-time problem-solving.

Hands-on Session: Using Wacom Tablets:

- Introduction to Wacom devices and its software tools, such as digital pens, erasers, highlighters, and shape tools.
- Practical exercises on using Wacom for note-taking, drawing diagrams, solving equations, and enhancing classroom interaction through digital annotation.
- Tips on using Wacom tablets to create interactive quizzes, live problem-solving sessions, and engaging diagrams.

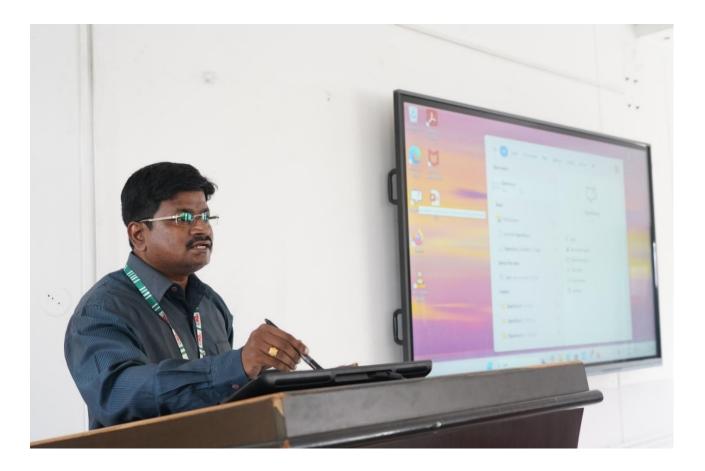

Resource Person Mr. T. Rajesh, BDM, Matrix Edge Computer.

Troubleshooting and Best Practices:

- A detailed discussion on common technical issues related to TV and Wacom setups, including connectivity problems, display issues, and Wacom tablet calibration.
- Best practices for troubleshooting and ensuring a smooth classroom experience, including maintaining the equipment, preparing before class, and adjusting settings during live sessions.

Session-2: 11-11-2024 (Monday):

Dr. M. Shiva Kumar, ET Facility Manager, KLEF

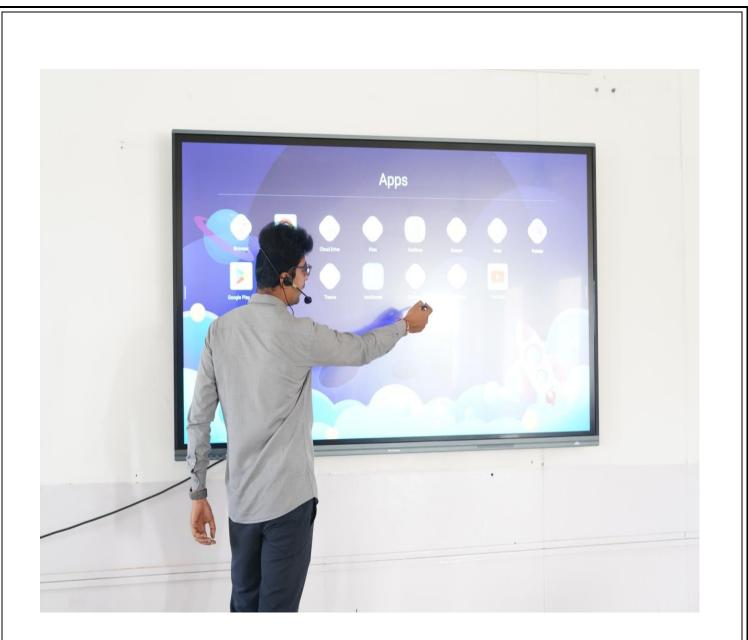

Session was continued by Dr. M. Shiva Kumar, ET Faculty Manager, KLEF and Mr. T. Rajesh, BDM, Matrix Edge Computer. who spoke to the faculty about the significance of establishing a strong foundation in integrating technology into teaching methodologies, highlighting how it enhances student engagement, facilitates interactive learning, and fosters a more dynamic and effective educational environment.

Key Features of the Program:

- Understanding the Role of TV in the Classroom: The first session focused on the potential of television and digital screens in enhancing classroom presentations. Faculty were shown how TV screens can display multimedia content, such as videos, animations, and presentations, which can help explain complex concepts with greater clarity.
- Wacom Tablets for Interactive Teaching: A hands-on training session was held on how to use Wacom tablets to create dynamic, real-time illustrations, solve equations, and annotate on slides or digital whiteboards. This tool enables faculty to engage students more interactively, creating a two-way communication channel.
- Integration with Virtual Learning Platforms: Demonstrations were provided on how these tools can be used in conjunction with online learning platforms and Virtual Learning Environments (VLEs) such as Google Classroom, Moodle, or Microsoft Teams.
- Best Practices for Effective Use: The sessions included guidelines on how to incorporate these technologies effectively into curriculum delivery, focusing on maximizing interaction and maintaining student interest.

Participants listening to the lecture (TV & Wacom)

Resource Person Mr. T. Rajesh, BDM, Matrix Edge Computer.

Combining TV, Wacom Tablets, and Other Digital Tools:

- Practical integration of Wacom tablets and TV screens to create an interactive and multimedia-rich classroom experience.
- > Using digital tools for enhanced student participation and feedback.
- > Case studies of classrooms that have successfully adopted these technologies.

Participants at the program.

Feedback and Evaluation:

The feedback received from the participants was overwhelmingly positive. Faculty appreciated the practical approach of the training, especially the hands-on sessions. Many participants highlighted how the Wacom tablets would aid in creating dynamic lessons, while others appreciated the role of television in displaying rich multimedia content.

Conclusion:

The training program on Classroom Teaching Aids (TV & Wacom) was highly successful in meeting its objectives. Faculty members left the session with a better understanding of how these technologies can enhance the learning experience and improve classroom dynamics. By leveraging these tools, faculty members are now better equipped to create engaging and interactive learning environments that cater to the diverse needs of students.

The university is committed to continuing the integration of technology in teaching and will follow up with additional training and support sessions to ensure effective utilization of these teaching aids.
