Report on 3-Day's FDP Training on “ERP for Teaching-Learning Process”

Organized by: Academic Staff College, KLEF.

Time: 10:00 AM – 12:30 PM.

Venue: Sunflower Hall, C-Block, KLEF.

Resource Person:

- Dr. Aravindan Alagarsami, Associate Dean, Academics, KLEF.

The Academic Staff College (ASC), KLEF in association with office of Dean Academics, organized a 3-Day Training Program on “ERP for Teaching–Learning Process” for faculty members of MHS, College of Law, College of Agriculture, School of Architecture, College of Pharmacy, Department of Fine Arts, and all FED branches. The program was conducted from 04-07-2025 to 05-07-2025 and 07-07-2025.

The training was specifically designed to provide hands-on guidance on course handout preparation and the ERP-based uploading and vetting process, addressing the practical challenges faced by faculty during course documentation and approval workflows.

Objectives of the Program

The primary objectives of the program were to:

- Train faculty members on standardized course handout preparation as per institutional guidelines
- Provide hands-on support for uploading course handouts through ERP
- Clarify the vetting and approval process of course handouts
- Address common reasons for handout rejection and resubmission

- Ensure uniformity and compliance in academic documentation across departments

Inaugural Session

The program commenced with an inaugural session where Dr. I. Govardhani, Principal, Academic Staff College, emphasized the importance of ERP systems in modern higher education institutions. She provided an overview of how ERP integrates academic, administrative, and assessment-related activities into a single digital platform.

After the inaugural address by Dr. I. Govardhani, the actual session began which focused on the structural and functional aspects of the ERP system implemented at KLEF. Resource person Dr. Aravindan demonstrated the navigation of the ERP interface and explained how different modules interact to support teaching and learning. A practical hands-on session was conducted to familiarize faculty with course-related ERP functionalities. Participants actively practiced uploading course hand outs and mapping outcomes under expert guidance.

Throughout the three days, the entire training was exclusively focused on course handout preparation and ERP uploading procedures. Each day catered to selected branches, ensuring focused attention and effective interaction.

Dr. Aravindan Alagarsami conducted detailed sessions explaining the structure, components, and quality requirements of course handouts. The sessions covered:

- Standard format and mandatory components of course handouts
- Alignment of course outcomes with program outcomes
- Mapping of syllabus, teaching plans, and assessment components
- Common documentation errors leading to handout rejection
- ERP workflow for handout submission, vetting, and approval

Special emphasis was placed on explaining why course handouts were getting rejected during the vetting process. The resource person clearly demonstrated:

- Incorrect outcome mapping
- Incomplete or inconsistent syllabus details
- Formatting and compliance issues
- Mismatches between lesson plans and assessment methods

The sessions were highly interactive, allowing faculty members to raise specific doubts related to their respective courses. Each query was addressed in detail with live demonstrations on the ERP system.

By the end of each day, the attending faculty members were able to successfully upload their course handouts. All doubts related to ERP navigation, vetting remarks, and approval timelines were clearly explained.

Outcomes of the Program

- By the conclusion of the three-day training program:
- Faculty members gained clarity on institutional expectations for course handouts
- Participants understood the ERP vetting and approval mechanism in detail
- Common errors leading to rejection were eliminated
- Faculty successfully completed handout submission by the end of the day
- Uniformity and quality in course documentation were significantly improved

Conclusion

The Three-Day Training Program on “ERP for Teaching–Learning Process” successfully achieved its intended objectives by providing hands-on guidance on course handout preparation and ERP uploading. The program effectively addressed faculty concerns regarding vetting and approval processes and contributed to improved academic documentation practices at KLEF.
