Day-1

Introduction

The Academic Staff College of KLEF organized a five-day Induction Programme for newly joined faculty members from 28th July to 1st August 2025. The programme aimed to familiarize the new faculty with the institution’s vision, mission, academic policies, student engagement strategies, research culture, and quality assurance mechanisms.

Dr. I Govardhani, Principal Academic Staff College, welcomed the newly joined faculty into the KLEF Vaddeswaram campus. She encouraged the faculty to utilize the facilities here to the personal and professional growth and thereby helping the institution grow to the next level. She also stated that the Academic Staff College will help the faculty to enhance the required skill development by conducting various Faculty Development Programs, refresher course, orientation courses etc.

Session-1

Dr. K Subbarao, Registrar, KLEF gave a brief note on the objectives of this programme. He said that this induction program will

- Provide insights into student progression, skill development, and academic quality frameworks.
- Familiarize faculty with research and development initiatives, funding opportunities, and innovation culture.
- Highlights international collaborations, placements, and internship opportunities for students.
- Foster a sense of belonging, teamwork, and professional responsibility among the new faculty members.

Dr. B.T.P. Madhav, Dean (Research & Development) addressed the newly appointed faculty members, highlighting the importance of fostering a strong research culture alongside teaching responsibilities.

The session focused on opportunities for faculty to engage in funded research projects, collaborating with industry partners, and mentoring students in innovation-driven activities. The Dean also introduced the various research support mechanisms available at the institution, including proposal writing assistance, research funding schemes, patent facilitation, and publication support.

Day-2

Prof. Hari Kiran Vege, Additional Dean – Academics, delivered a detailed address outlining the academic framework and policies of the university. He explained the structure of academic programmes, credit requirements, assessment methods, and the role of faculty in maintaining academic quality.

Prof. Vege highlighted the importance of outcome-based education (OBE) and curriculum design aligned with industry needs and global standards. He also discussed teaching methodologies, evaluation practices, and the integration of technology-enabled learning tools to enhance classroom engagement.

Emphasizing the significance of academic integrity and continuous improvement, he encouraged faculty to actively participate in curriculum development, academic audits, and mentoring activities. The session concluded with a reaffirmation of the university's commitment to delivering high-quality education and fostering an enriching learning environment for students.

Dr. K.R.S. Prasad, Dean – Student Affairs, addressed the newly joined faculty members, outlining the university's vision and framework for student engagement, welfare, and holistic development. He explained the role of the Student Affairs division in coordinating extracurricular activities, cultural events, sports, and student clubs, all aimed at nurturing leadership, teamwork, and creativity among students.

Dr. Prasad highlighted the importance of faculty involvement in mentoring, guiding, and supporting students beyond academics. He emphasized the need to identify student potential, encourage participation in co-curricular and extension activities, and address student concerns with empathy and professionalism.

He also discussed initiatives for student welfare, including grievance redressal mechanisms, counselling support, and platforms for student representation in decision-making processes. The session concluded with a call for collaborative efforts to create a vibrant campus life that fosters academic success, personal growth, and social responsibility.

Day-3

Dr. A. Srinath, Dean – Student Progression & Skill Development, delivered an insightful presentation to the newly joined faculty members. He outlined the university's structured approach to guiding students from academic learning towards career readiness and lifelong success.

The presentation covered key initiatives in skill enhancement, including technical training, soft skills development, internship opportunities, and industry-oriented certification programmes. Dr. Srinath emphasized the importance of integrating skill-building activities into the curriculum and mentoring students for competitive exams, research opportunities, and higher studies.

Dr. M. Kishore Babu, Dean – Management & Humanities, International Relations (MH&IR), addressed the newly joined faculty members, highlighting the dual role of his office in strengthening both academic domains and global partnerships.

He explained the scope of the Management & Humanities discipline within the university, emphasizing its role in fostering critical thinking, communication skills, leadership abilities, and ethical values among students. Dr. Kishore Babu encouraged faculty to adopt innovative teaching methodologies and integrate multidisciplinary perspectives to enhance student engagement.

On the International Relations front, he discussed initiatives aimed at expanding collaborations with foreign universities, facilitating student and faculty exchange programmes, and developing joint research projects. He stressed that global exposure enriches both faculty and students, preparing them for a competitive, interconnected world.

Day-4

Dr. V. Sreekanth, Dean – Faculty & Staff Affairs (F&SA), addressed the newly joined faculty members on the university's policies, support mechanisms, and expectations regarding faculty conduct and development. He outlined the institutional framework for recruitment, probation, appraisal, and promotion, emphasizing transparency and fairness in all processes.

Dr. Sreekanth highlighted the welfare measures, professional development programmes, and training opportunities available to faculty and staff. He underscored the importance of teamwork, mutual respect, and effective communication in creating a supportive academic environment.

Encouraging faculty to uphold high standards of professionalism, he stressed the value of continuous learning, active participation in institutional activities, and adherence to the university's core values. The session concluded with an open forum, allowing participants to clarify queries related to policies and career advancement.

Dr. K. Rama Krishna, Dean – Quality, addressed the newly joined faculty members on the university's commitment to maintaining and enhancing academic and administrative quality standards. He explained the role of the Quality Assurance Cell in ensuring compliance with accreditation requirements, regulatory guidelines, and institutional benchmarks.

Dr. Rama Krishna highlighted the significance of outcome-based education (OBE), continuous curriculum review, and periodic academic audits in sustaining quality. He emphasized the need for faculty to maintain robust documentation, adopt innovative teaching practices, and align assessments with defined learning outcomes.

Day-5

As part of the faculty induction programme, Dr. N.B.V. Prasad, Dean – International Placements & Internships, addressed the newly joined faculty members on the university's strategies for enhancing students' global career opportunities. He explained the role of his office in establishing partnerships with international organizations, universities, and industries to facilitate internships, placements, and collaborative projects abroad.

The programme was attended by newly joined faculty members from various disciplines across the university. They actively participated in interactive sessions, discussions, and Q&A segments with the senior academic leadership team.

Participants expressed that the induction was highly informative, well-structured, and engaging. The direct interaction with senior leadership was particularly appreciated, as it clarified institutional expectations and provided guidance for professional growth.

Conclusion

The Induction Programme for newly joined faculty from 28th July to 1st August 2025 achieved its objective of integrating new members into KLEF's academic environment. The Academic Staff College reaffirmed its commitment to supporting faculty development, ensuring that they contribute meaningfully to teaching, research, and community engagement.
