Semester Readiness Program initiation was done from 27.01.2018 to 31.01.2018 by Prof. Rama Patnaik, Academic Staff College, K L University for the faculty of KLU H at KLUH Campus to orient the faculty how to prepare Course Objectives for each of the courses and to align the each of the session with Blooms taxonomy with Active Learning Methods.

The faculty members were oriented in different subjects like Mathematics, Chemistry, English, MBA, Marketing Management, C and Data Structures problem solving and algorithms etc. the whole day orientation was given to members on the preparation of course hand out and the question bank for different subjects.

The accelerated time frame of these programs was intended to mitigate some of the barriers that the instructors often face during the semester. These barriers include inflexible and often heavy work schedules, lack of preparation leads to less facilitation of student learning

SRP includes Expertising the subject as per the curriculum and to align ALMs and required documents like GD methods, Seminar topics, Tutorial topics and LTC to session plans. Create Course handout and question bank

The SRP program is very effective in terms providing common time and making all the instructors to interact, discuss about the session plan, delivery mechanism, preparing ALMs/Tutorials and preparing Question Bank. This ensures the same content delivery of the course across the multiple sessions.

The outcomes of the SRP

- The faculty is ready with session plans, teaching material along with ALMS and the required question papers for the whole semester
- Members become expert as there is sharing of expertise among the members
- The students are given proper subject information whoever may be the instructor
