Importance of Higher Education for Schoolchildren and Dropouts from School”

Date: 02/12/2023 (Saturday)

Timings: From 10:00 AM

Venue: Tadigadapa Village, Guntur District (Outreach Program)

Participants: 39

Faculty Participation: 5 Faculty Members

Objectives:

The primary objective of the workshop on “Importance of Higher Education for Schoolchildren and Dropouts from School” is to create awareness among schoolchildren, school dropouts, and community members of Tadigadapa Village about the value of continuing education. The workshop aims to emphasize how higher education can significantly impact personal growth, career development, and socio-economic advancement. The event will also encourage parents and guardians to prioritize education for their children and provide them with resources and guidance on how to pursue further studies.

Description:

The workshop will be organized by the Women Development Cell (WDC) of KLEF, with an outreach focus on Tadigadapa Village. The session will begin with an introduction to the significance of education in personal and professional life. It will be followed by discussions on the various higher education opportunities available in both urban and rural areas, including scholarships, vocational training, and technical courses. Faculty from KLEF will be leading the event and engaging participants with real-life examples, interactive discussions, and success stories of individuals who have overcome obstacles to achieve educational success. The workshop will also provide information on how dropouts can re-enter the education system, explore skill-building programs, and acquire knowledge that can improve their livelihoods.

Outcomes:

The expected outcomes of the workshop include a heightened understanding among participants about the importance of higher education, and how it can help them escape the cycle of poverty, increase job opportunities, and contribute positively to society. The workshop is expected to motivate both schoolchildren and dropouts to pursue further studies or enroll in skill development programs, and will also aim to foster a supportive environment in the community for educational growth. By the end of the session, participants will have access to a variety of resources and guidance on how to pursue education and career paths that can improve their quality of life. Additionally, the workshop will inspire parents and guardians to become more involved in the educational journeys of their children.
