Discussion on why gender equality is important.

As we have seen many scenarios, arguments about men and women but everyone has their own perspectives, own opinion is it their mistake to have opinion? No? Yes? Lot of misconceptions takes place, it is all begin where it ended ‘COMPROMISE’ from the begin we all allow ourselves think something without giving it a thought.

In society’s Perspective they think patriarchy is their birth Right, is it? No? yes? maybe?

“The pressure falls upon both men and women Something makes us believe Man is Man when he has Good Job, capable of earning money and good looking, these never makes a Man ‘Man’ “quote kamala bhasin.

When a girl asks her father that she wants to study and pursue her goals he says NO “why?” I asked they say ” why girl need to be educate like boy she is only belong to kitchen and take care of House-hold” he becomes a society’s perfect man when he thinks she’s not allowed to educate, when think he should invest money in Marriage and when got his daughter married off, but when comes to his son no matter what he Educate his boy child but both are his children there’s a compromise, we always talk about girl what about her brother when I ask you may think ‘he’s studying what about him?’ that’s the mistake when sees his father telling his sister not study this impact takes place on his ideology that passes on to his and his son. A girl always told what she must do, why not boy? A boy also must be told they both has to be told that they should respect each other, respect others, behave properly, be kind to everyone that’s the real education they are giving to their children.

Through the period of time Patriarchy takes place and no one questioned that, there are many situations that questions left in silence later on asked in silence when no one listened, to whom you are telling? you need a voice every girl wishes that voice has to be her family but, her wish left just as wish, after a long battle they found voice they learn how to fight slowly they started to gain their own personal identity yet the fight hasn’t done even though they found voice they learn how to fight they are afraid to fight and use their voice, girl child allowed to educate on conditions she has to be home at 6’o clock, she shouldn’t go out of course they has to protect their child but in the name of protection and security they stops her from learning and chain her freedom.

World evolves with introducing new technology but our minds still rust, still questioning when will the patriarchy chain break and thrive towards the new era called ‘Equality’ in this process women has to support women man has to play his role, Every family should encourage their girl child to chase her dreams, we don’t want our children to grow up in that world, together could make world where everyone is Equal, where humanity lives, where everyone has and listen to their voices

OUTCOMES

The outcomes of organizing a seminar on gender sensitization for women and students are expected to include increased awareness and mutual understanding between the two groups, leading to more empathetic and respectful interactions. Women are likely to emerge with enhanced self-confidence, a better understanding of their rights, and improved strategies for addressing gender-based discrimination and violence. Simultaneously, students are anticipated to gain a deeper appreciation for gender equality and a commitment to dismantling gender stereotypes. Collectively, this seminar aims to foster a more inclusive and respectful environment where women feel empowered, and students actively contribute to challenging gender biases, ultimately paving the way for a more equitable and discrimination-free society for all genders.
