OBJECTIVES

The objectives of organizing a webinar on "Menstrual Hygiene for Women/Girls" are to educate and empower girls with accurate and comprehensive knowledge about menstruation, its biological processes, and hygiene practices; to dispel myths and taboos surrounding menstruation, fostering a sense of confidence and self-esteem; to provide practical guidance on selecting and using menstrual hygiene products; to promote open and informed discussions about menstruation, reducing stigma and discomfort associated with this natural bodily process; and ultimately, to improve girls' overall well-being and quality of life by ensuring they have the information and resources necessary to manage menstruation hygienically and confidently, enabling them to participate fully in their education and daily activities without disruption or shame.

DESCRIPTION

KLEF Women's Forum in association with Department of CSE & ECM organized a webinar on "Menstrual Hygiene for Women and Girls". Menstruation is not a problem; poor World Menstrual Hygiene Day is celebrated every year on May 28th.

A National level virtual seminar has been conducted on MENSTRUAL HYGIENE and CONTRACEPTION, to acquire the knowledge and to share with girls/women. The resource persons are reputed gynecologists and they have delivered sessions to educate others and teachers about their role in the society. They have given information about HPV vaccination to fight against the cervical cancer.

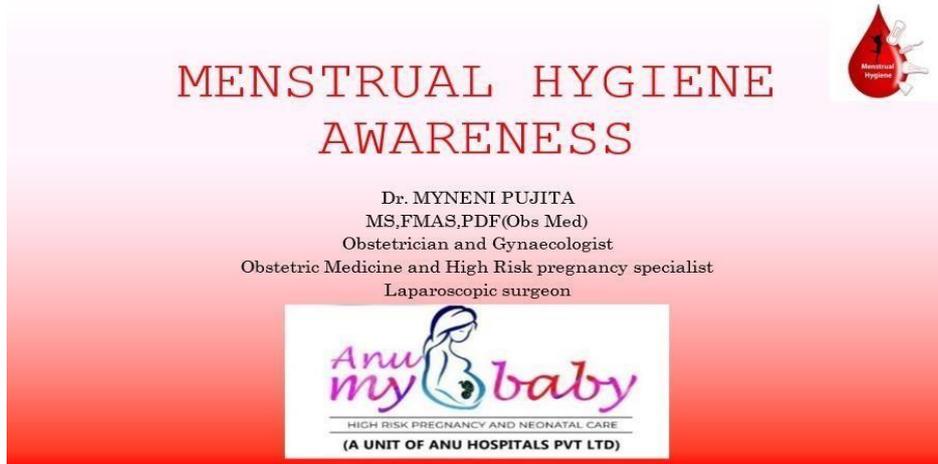

Menstrual hygiene is a critical aspect of women and girls' well-being and dignity. Ensuring access to safe and affordable menstrual products, education about proper hygiene practices, and destigmatizing menstruation are vital components of this effort. Inadequate menstrual hygiene can lead to health issues, missed educational or work opportunities, and social exclusion. Therefore, it is imperative for governments, organizations, and communities to prioritize menstrual hygiene management through policies, awareness campaigns, and the provision of resources, ensuring that all women and girls can manage their menstruation safely, comfortably, and with dignity, regardless of their socioeconomic background or location.

OUTCOMES

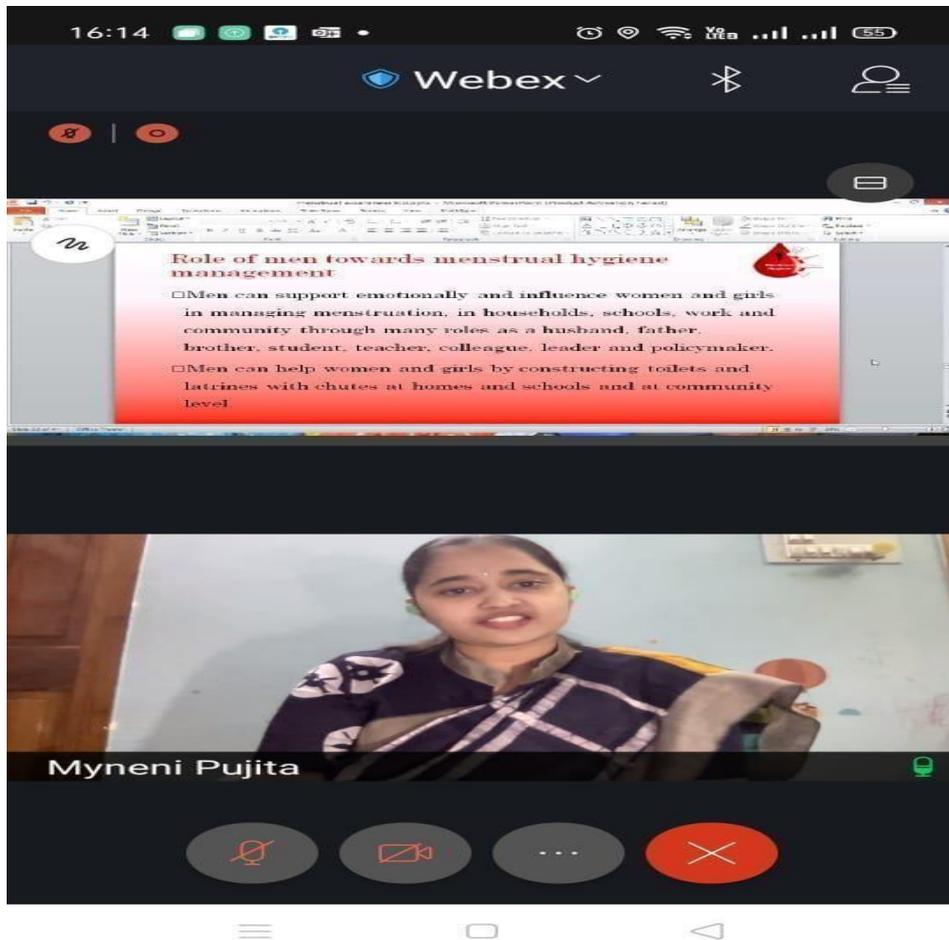

The outcomes of organizing a webinar on "Menstrual Hygiene for Women/Girls" include heightened awareness and understanding among participants about menstruation and its importance, increased confidence and self-esteem among girls in managing their menstrual hygiene, the elimination of misconceptions and stigma related to menstruation, improved access to and utilization of appropriate menstrual hygiene products, and the creation of a supportive and informed community where girls can openly discuss and address their menstrual needs. Ultimately, these outcomes contribute to girls' physical and emotional well-being, allowing them to navigate menstruation with dignity, confidence, and comfort, ensuring they can fully participate in their education and daily activities without hindrance or embarrassment.
